

As a baby, Anne cried. LOUD.
As a toddler, she was silly and made everyone laugh.
And as a little girl, she spoke her mind.

But sometimes no one listened.
Some things were hard to talk about.
And, sometimes, it seemed like no one understood.

