

ODED

J O H N S T O W N

A NOVEL IN VERSE BY

ANN E. BURG

SCHOLASTIC INC.

JOE DIXON

My brothers have been tromping
around the house for days
pretending to be Union soldiers.

I don't blame them
for being excited—
Decoration Day
isn't until next Thursday,
but already the town's dressed
in red, white and blue bunting.

Everyone's in a holiday mood—
nodding, smiling,
happy to drop three cents
to read the news of the day.
Good for business!

But with every nod,
smile and thank-you
my heart thumps
like a field drum—

Pa still doesn't know
I bought this newsstand.
He thinks I'm working
at the company store.

You've got to tell him,
Maggie says,

and I want to.
I'm just waiting
for the perfect moment—
a calm, quiet moment.

In our house
that won't happen
in a crow's age.

It's not just the newsstand
making my heart thump.

There's something else.

Something burning
a hole in my pocket.

*You made it weeks ago,
my friend Ed says.
Just give it to her.*

But I can't. Not yet.
That's got to be
a perfect moment too.

No little brothers pestering.
No well-meaning friends.

Just me, Maggie
and a ring made
of two willow twigs
twisted together—

a promise
of my undying love.

When Maggie's pa died,
my ma cared for her
while her ma cleaned houses.

We played together
morning till night.

Maggie's shimmery blue eyes
look like they're made
of sky-water—
sparkling and wide open,
endless as the sky
above Lake Conemaugh
and even more beautiful.

4

—
J
O
E

D
I
X
O
N

Someday
I want to give Maggie
a deep-red ruby
set in a circle of gold
like the glittering ring
I saw at Larkin's.

Someone like Maggie
deserves the best.

My newsstand is only
the first step.
I got my heart set

on being a millionaire businessman
like my hero, Andrew Carnegie.

Then I'll be able to afford a proper engagement ring!

If you purchased this book without a cover, you should be aware that this book is stolen property. It was reported as “unsold and destroyed” to the publisher, and neither the author nor the publisher has received any payment for this “stripped book.”

Text copyright © 2020 by Ann E. Burg

All rights reserved. Published by Scholastic Press, an imprint of Scholastic Inc., Publishers since 1920. SCHOLASTIC and associated logos are trademarks and/or registered trademarks of Scholastic Inc.

The publisher does not have any control over and does not assume any responsibility for author or third-party websites or their content.

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without written permission of the publisher. For information regarding permission, write to Scholastic Inc., Attention: Permissions Department, 557 Broadway, New York, NY 10012.

While inspired by real events and historical characters, this is a work of fiction and does not claim to be historically accurate or portray factual events or relationships. Please keep in mind that references to actual persons, living or dead, business establishments, events, or locales may not be factually accurate, but rather fictionalized by the author.

ISBN 978-1-338-54099-4

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1      22 23 24 25 26

Printed in the U.S.A.      23
This edition first printing 2022